

The Cambridge Diploma in English Language Teaching to Adults (DELTA) is the in-service teacher training qualification - designed to upgrade your teaching qualifications and to help you realise your teaching potential. This course will deepen your understanding of English grammar, vocabulary and discourse, while improving your confidence and classroom skills. You will also examine your current practice and beliefs and explore new areas in English teaching and learning.

realise your teaching potential

Application procedure

Before being enrolled, all applicants need to complete an enrolment form, successfully complete an enrolment 'test', and attend an interview (if a personal interview is impractical this can be done by phone).

Please contact us for further details and an application pack within our schools.

Programme content

- Input sessions based upon specifications for DELTA produced by the University of Cambridge covering: language awareness, the background to teaching and learning, resources and materials, working in the classroom, evaluation, monitoring, and assessment, and professional development
- Supervised practice teaching assignment (PTAs) with adult students
- Reading and research: the DELTA requires considerable reading and research
- Written course assignments
- Lesson observation tutorials – preceding and following the assignment.

outcomes →

You can expect that in gaining this post-graduate Diploma you will have developed a fuller and more rounded practical and theoretical knowledge of the teaching of English. You will have gained a new confidence from critical examination of your own experience and from exploring new areas of language and methodology.